DETAILED ACTION

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by GB 2357061 A [061].

Per claim 1, 061 teaches method of preparing a birefringent marking comprising polymerised liquid crystal material [see page 8, first full paragraph], by printing a polymerisable liquid crystal material onto at least one surface of a reflective substrate [the term printing is broad and the fact that 061 is for identification the end result is a print, and thus, printing take place in the form of coating and patterning] and polymerising the liquid crystal material [see page 17, line 11].

Per claim 2, 061 teaches method according to claim 1, wherein the liquid crystal material is a nematic or smectic liquid crystal material [see page nine, third full paragraph].

Per claims 3-4, 061 teaches method according to claim 1, wherein the substrate comprises at least one metallic or metallised layer [see page 19, first full paragraph, aluminum oxide is used].

Per claim 5-6, 061 teaches a method according to claim 1, wherein the substrate comprises at least one layer of reflective pigments [see page 11, fifth full paragraph].

Per claims 7-8, 061 teaches a method according to claim 1, wherein the liquid crystal material comprises at least one compound which induces and/or enhances planar alignment [see paragraph bridging pages 18-19].

Per claims 9-10, 061 teaches a method according to claim 1, wherein the polymerised liquid crystal layer has a splayed structure [see pages 10, fifth paragraph].

Per claims 11-15, 061 teaches the birefringent marking obtainable by a method according to claim 1 [see the figures].

Per claim 17, the liquid crystal is flat or planar.

Per claim 18, the LC is a marking.

Per claim 19-36, see page 8-13.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 2/20/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant is arguing the term "printing" and that the 061 lacks this feature. Applicant argues a narrow definition of printing. Examiner still contends that when the liquid crystal is patterned a printing process takes place. Accordingly, the Examiner is not persuaded.
